

My dream vacation is a beach. The sun has to be just right. The water has to be crystal clear. I like the bright yellow sun to beam down and reflect off the shimmering water like diamonds. Also to have my friends to be there with me. Then as night falls we would watch the calm water as we gossiped on the long night. If it was a party night I would want to dance the night away. Watch the happy people think of no fear just fun.
